

Payment Structure Overview

Marina Vista Residences is offered on a construction-linked payment plan, requiring 20% at booking and signing, 70% across seven construction-linked instalments through to structural completion, and a final 10% due on Handover. This structure carries a lower post-handover exposure than many current Dubai Marina launches, which have shifted toward heavier post-handover weighting.

No instalment exceeds 15% of the Purchase Price at any single milestone, and the largest single payment after the initial down payment is the final Handover instalment. Purchasers financing via mortgage should note that most UAE lenders will only finance a unit once it reaches approximately 50% construction completion.

All instalments are payable directly into the project's RERA-registered Escrow Account. The Developer does not accept instalment payments to any account other than the Escrow Account referenced in the Agreement.

Purchasers should note that instalments 3 through 8 are triggered by certified construction milestones rather than fixed calendar dates, meaning the actual payment dates will track the pace of construction reported by the appointed project consultant.

Construction-Linked Milestones

Construction milestones are certified by an independent project consultant appointed by the Developer and reported to purchasers via quarterly construction update notices. As of Q2 2026, the Developer reports overall project completion at approximately 22%, consistent with the milestone underlying Instalment 4.

Each milestone notice specifies the certified percentage of completion for structural works, MEP (mechanical, electrical, plumbing) rough-in, and finishing works separately, with the overall percentage used for payment purposes being a weighted blend of the three.

In the event that construction proceeds faster than anticipated, multiple milestone instalments may fall due within a short period; the Developer will provide no less than 14 days' notice before any instalment becomes payable.

Late Payment Penalty

Instalments not paid within 30 days of their due date accrue a late payment charge of 1% per month of the overdue amount, calculated from the original due date until the date of actual payment.

Persistent late payment (defined as any instalment more than 30 days overdue on two or more occasions) entitles the Developer to issue a default notice under Article 14 of the Agreement, which may ultimately lead to termination and forfeiture as described in that Article.

Purchasers are encouraged to set up standing payment reminders, as the Developer's payment portal does not currently send automated reminders more than 7 days before an instalment falls due.

Handover Balance and Fees

The final 10% instalment (AED 191,250) becomes due upon the Developer's Handover notice and must be settled, together with all outstanding amounts, before keys are released and title registration is initiated.

In addition to the final instalment, purchasers should budget for the Dubai Land Department transfer fee of 4% of the Purchase Price (AED 76,500), an Oqood registration fee paid at signing, and a one-off owners association contribution collected at handover to fund initial common-area operating costs.

Mortgage-financed purchasers should ensure their lender has issued a final disbursement letter at least 15 business days before the anticipated Handover Date to avoid late payment charges under Article 14.
